

Luncheon and Conversation Event To Benefit East Hampton Emergency Department

Staff Writer on Jun 29, 2025

The Southampton Hospital Foundation has announced the return of its East Hampton Emergency Department Luncheon, taking place on Thursday, July 17, at the Maidstone Club in East Hampton.

This year's featured guest is Aerin Lauder, author, and founder of Aerin, who will speak about her newest book, "Living With Flowers," a celebration of timeless beauty, personal style, and the power of florals to elevate everyday life. The event benefits the Stony Brook East Hampton Emergency Department, which opened its doors in May 2025.

“I am honored to support the East Hampton Emergency Department,” said Lauder. “I have a strong connection to this community and recognize how essential it is for both residents and visitors to have access to quality health care. I am also looking forward to sharing more about my newest book and the inspiration behind it at the luncheon.”

The conversation will be moderated by Mary Margaret Trousdale, with special guest Michael Giannelli, owner of East Hampton Gardens, joining Lauder on stage to share creative ideas for floral design.
